FOLLIES OF 1964

Auburn High School
Auburn, Indiana

ALL ALONG MAIN . . .

All along Main Street stand buildings populated by hundreds of Auburnites that influenced our lives in 1964—the stores where we shopped, the “Y” where we spent much time, the school where we learned. All of these places and many more were an important part of our lives, with Main Street the hub of it all.

Yes, Auburn was the town, Main was the street, and A.H.S. the school where our goals, our dreams, and our accomplishments became realities. Though the community may change, and A.H.S. may no longer be on Main Street, we can look back and be proud indeed that in 1964 we were “All Along Main.”

Auburn High School is classified as a First Class Commissioned high school. It is a member of the North Central Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools. Membership in the Association indicates high standards and facilitates college entrance.

Enrollment at A.H.S. for the 1963-64 school year was 619. Compared to 450 students four years ago, the enrollment has increased by about 38%. The five-room addition completed in the spring of 1963 was extensively used this year. Curriculum additions and new methods of teaching helped Auburn High School sustain its high standards and keep up to date on educational concepts.

FALL ACTIVITIES SPARK LIFE AROUND A.H.S.

September third the halls of Auburn High School rang with the cries of students eager to begin another year of study. Freshmen anxious to start their high school careers and those of us returning to A.H.S. awaited new challenges for the coming school year. Initial enthusiasm soon waned, however, as the routine of school was established, and all of us were pleased with the arrival of the fall.

An important part of the fair was the Miss DeKalb County competition, and the seniors were called upon to select a girl from their class to represent Auburn in the pageant. Mary Lou Prokso, Sally Warren, and Wilma Wells vied for the honor, and balloting revealed Mary Lou the winner, who proudly represented Auburn as First Runner-up in the pageant.

The excitement of Homecoming was soon upon us, and the Devils' defeat by Defiance did not dampen the spirit of the festivities. Mary Lou again represented us as majestic Homecoming Queen of 1963. "Moonlight and Autumn" brought to a close another memorable Homecoming weekend.

more; Susan Kingsbury, Junior; Sue Sisson and Wilma Wells, Senior; Mary Lou Prokso, Queen.

Freshmen were initiated into the "Y" clubs by energetic sophomores who devised ingenious costumes for them to wear. Future Teen-Y members look cute, don't they?

Chaperones at the Sadie Hawkins Dance seem amused by some of the outlandish costumes of the students. Perhaps they should look in the mirror!

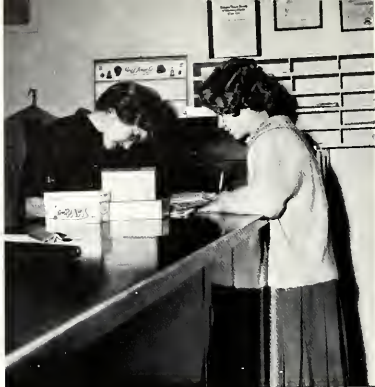

"I think that I shall never see
A Homecoming Dance with a lavelier tree."

Miss Auburn, Mary Lou Proksa, descends the stairs after receiving the title of First Runner-up in the Miss DeKalb County Contest.

These returning alumni, Mike Frawnfelder and Lauri Hunter, graduates of 1960, seem to be enjoying themselves at the Homecoming Dance.

Loyal Red Devil fan Coral Long purchases a bus ticket—one of the many events that are part of the activity period.

Sue Sisson seems sure of success as she slyly seeks a series of simple solutions.

EVERYDAY HAPPENINGS ORNAMENT LIFE

This group of boys proudly display their senior cords which signify "moments to remember" at A.H.S.

The new library, with its wide variety of reference material and periodicals, provides a quiet atmosphere for study. High school girls, serving as student librarians, perform the routine work of the library.

Stock market up? Horoscope favorable? Good advice from Abby? Two "ruby-throated" chorus members, Jay Sisson and Steve Walter, relax over the morning newspaper. Soon the sousaphones will arouse them from their repose.

AROUND SCHOOL

ZZZZZZ Come now, Dewey, Mrs. Finchum's English class can't be that dull.

The tardy bell has a magic effect on these students; it really sends them—to class, that is. And they say Grand Central Station is congested!

This year's Christmas assembly provided an hour devoted to the true spirit of Christmas. The Speech Club used "shadow-boxing" to depict themes of the various numbers presented by the chorus.

CONVOCATIONS AND HOLIDAY FESTIVITIES

Time: December 29. Place: Greenhurst Country Club. Event: A panel of last year's seniors answered questions about college life which were presented to them by the class of '64, after which an informal mixer was held.

During Christmas vacation, many A.H.S.'ers could be seen at the Canteen. Here spirited Red Devil fans celebrate at a record hop following our victory at the Holiday Tourney.

The Speech Club presented a dramatic reading at the Thanksgiving program. Here Rebecca Raub, Jan Bruce, and Sue Kingsbury offer their reading of "What to be Thankful For."

BRIGHTEN YEAR

Four Student Council members illustrate the "new look" for 1964. Sue Carbaugh shows that the hem line has gone down this year. Jaan McKeon has that "natural look"—the smooth, sleek hairdo. Marsha Allen and Larry Barnhart picture the togetherness that exists in a small school. "Your Appearance Counts," and this group makes quite an appearance!

The Presbyterian Church was the scene of this year's Christmas Formal, "Silver Bells." Santa Claus made a surprise visit—one day late!

At our assembly program, Sergeant Darrell Bauer showed a film entitled "Mechanized Death," a realistic portrayal of some tragic automobile accidents.

The gymnastics of our four varsity cheerleaders led the Devils to many noisy victories. From left: Judy Arnold, Kathy Briggs, Nancy Cooper, and Carol Long.

MIGHTY AUBURN RED DEVILS EX-

This Gorrett Railroader prepares to eject an Auburn letterman from his car while his beautiful girlfriend looks on in dismay. "Sic 'im," Carol.

"We're with you team, so fight ..."

"There's no reason why we can't beat them; we'll win!" says Mr. Showalter as he reassures the student body of a victory at Chubbusco.

This cheerleader has a definite problem. Hey Pat, watch the birdie!

These students, standing for the school song, signal the beginning of another spirited pep session.

IBIT SUPERB SCHOOL SPIRIT

A capacity crowd filled the Alumni Gym as the Auburn Devils played host to the Concordia Cadets. Here the crowd leaves after watching one of the most exciting games of the season.

SENIORS: Ken Lange, Becky Raub, Karen Hohn, Kristen Weiler.

JUNIORS: Terry Hobig, Carol Lang, Lindo Nugen, Nancy Cooper.

HIGHEST SCHOLARS HONORED BY THE FOLLIES

Each year the Follies chooses to honor the top ranking students of each class. It is the belief of the Follies that superior achievement deserves special recognition. The students pictured on this page have proven their ability to learn and shown their desire to make the most of the educational opportunities offered them in high school. The FOLLIES honor roll is in no way connected with the six weeks or ten per cent honor rolls of the school. The four members of each class with the highest averages are chosen for the Follies honor roll. Selections of sophomores, juniors, and seniors are made on a basis of cumulative semester averages.

LANGUAGE DEPARTMENT SHOWS IMPROVEMENT

The language lab with its modern equipment gave students many opportunities for advanced study in French and Spanish.

Auburn High School's language laboratory, added in 1963, greatly strengthened the language department and has become the center of modern language instruction.

French and Spanish students in the lab make use of aural-oral (listening-speaking) techniques by listening to tapes in the language and pronouncing the sentences given them. Tapes of native voices are used to give the students correct pronunciation and accent. While the instructor monitors the class, each student works individually.

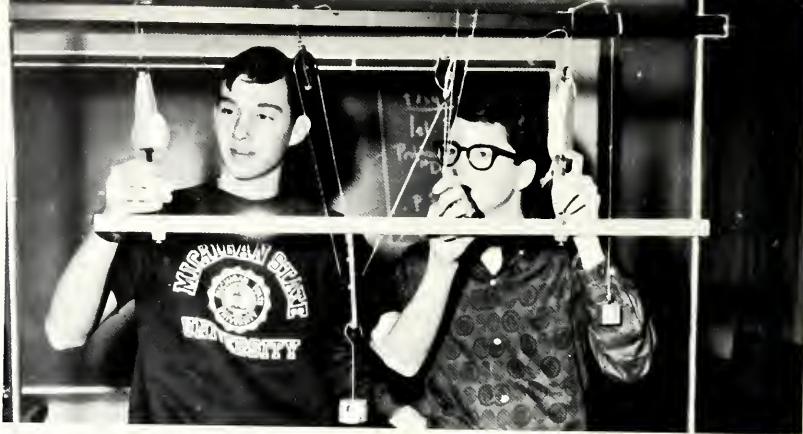

Voici Mlle. Doris Taderschmidt de Mulhouse, France, qui nous a fait visite le 3 février 1964. Elle a parlé de la France d'aujourd'hui.

Who says Latin is a dead language? Dick Ward and Jerry Cripe seem to find it quite lively!

"You're never too old to learn." Of course, there are exceptions!

"The pulley and the pendulum ..." AND the inclined plane AND the parallel forces. Enterprising young physics students Jon Leeke and Dick Nugen grozzle with these simple (?) machines. Mr. D-u-n-h-a-m ...

ADVANCED SCIENCE AND MATHEMATICS

The addition of new laboratories in 1963 greatly increased the effectiveness of the science department and promoted interest in the study of science. Modern equipment and the opportunities afforded for advanced study have given A.H.S. one of the finest science departments in this part of the state and have enabled A.H.S. to keep pace with the increased emphasis on science.

Vexed? Don't worry Linda, eventually the scales will balance. "If at first you don't succeed ..."

This year a program of original research projects was begun. Students participating worked on their own to study a specific phase of science and do original research in their chosen subject. Original research projects gave students a deeper understanding of their chosen subject and increased their knowledge of laboratory skills.

Mary Ann Stackhouse demonstrates the proper use of the modern equipment found in the chemistry room. And she does it without even looking.

Melinda Herberger displays intricate Japanese acrobatics as she copies a circle from her paper, which has drifted to the floor, onto the board. As a rule, however, geometry students forsoke such frivolities for the serious study of Euclid.

DEPARTMENTS STIMULATE STUDENTS' MINDS

No, this isn't a double exposure. It's the Byal twins, Ronald and Randall. Or is it Randall and Ronald? At any rate, both seem to understand their trig quite well.

ELECTIVE VOCATIONAL DEPARTMENT

Ready . . . eyes on copy . . . type. "Now is the time . . ."

Secretarial training, typing, and bookkeeping students prepared themselves for careers in the business world. Secretarial and bookkeeping sets enabled the students to attain a better concept of the problems concerning their chosen vocation. Junior and senior girls, serving as student secretaries, obtained vital experience by performing the various tasks assigned to them by their respective "bosses."

"What total did you get?" echoes through the bookkeeping room as four ambitious students check addition for various bookkeeping

Diane Heffley interrupts her work long enough to pose for us as she practices proper filing techniques.

TRAINS CITIZENS FOR FUTURE

The modern, up-to-date equipment in both the home economics department and the shop offered excellent opportunities for those who wished to take advantage of them. The experience gained from the use of this equipment will be of great value to the students in future years.

Marsha Yarlot affirms the old saying, "A stitch in time saves nine."

Shop students learn the proper use of modern vocational equipment. Here Jake DeWitt prepares his latest shop project.

"The way to a man's heart is through his stomach." These young home economists, Pat Schlegel and Betty Weaver, diligently study the culinary arts.

Whadda yo mean, what is it? It's a ... er ... well, how should I know?

AVID HISTORY STUDENTS DELVE INTO PAST

American history students learn of the development of our nation. Judy Rugman, Brad Rogers, and Kathy Briggs study flags of the original thirteen colonies.

Two world history students, Jerry Cripe and Charles Dever, study foreign nations. Let's see, Cambodia should be about here . . .

In September students in the various history courses embarked on a study of United States and world history. Sophomore world history students began their course with a study of early civilizations. An important part of the course was the study of current events and their effects on history now and possible effects in the future. A study of smaller but nevertheless important nations was included. Juniors learned of our democratic heritage. This year an advanced American history course offered a deeper study of significant events in our history and their effects on our nation's development.

Senior civics students learned the foundations of American government—national, state, and local. During second semester they studied the principles of the American economic system.

Senior civics students Carolyn Ditley and Diana Sapp devote part of their class time to a study of Indiana government. How much is the Commissioner of Public Works in a third-class city paid?

WHEEEEEEEEEEE!!!

CULTURE AND GOOD PHYSIQUE STRESSED

During the school year Auburn High School increased its emphasis on physical fitness. Physical education students practiced various acrobatics and improved their skills in intramural sports.

Speech students livened their school year with a varied schedule. Included were impromptu and extemporaneous speeches and dramatic readings. Those interested participated in debate.

Art students increased their appreciation of their subject by a study of well-known painters and their works. Numerous drawing techniques were practiced, including modern and abstract art.

"Leonardo da" Sawchuck adds the finishing touch to his latest landscape.

PEOPLE

CAPABLE ADMINISTRATION STRENGTHENS

Mr. Cole Hudson has worked diligently as superintendent to improve school curricula by securing equipment, increasing the staff, and establishing a close relationship among all those who are a part of the schools.

Mr. Ford Walter, treasurer; Mr. John Kelley; Mr. Robert Ball, secretary; Mr. Norman Rahm, president; and Mr. Noah Yader have ably served on the Auburn Board of School Trustees. They have worked hard for the improvement of our educational system.

Mrs. Carmo-Jean Eckert, Mr. Hudson's bookkeeper, and Mrs. Doris Metcalf, Mr. Hudson's secretary, prove to be valuable aids to our expanding school system.

EDUCATIONAL STRUCTURE OF A.H.S.

Mr. Meredith Thompson—in the past four years at A.H.S.—has become respected and highly thought of by the student body. No matter how busy he may be, Mr. Thompson always has time to listen to a student's problem.

Brightening the main office, Mrs. Marie Hughes has endeared herself to the students with her cheerful smile and her willingness to help others.

Our unseen and often unthanked helpers, Mr. Melvin Surfus, Mrs. Marie Blevins, and Mr. Harold Link have toiled to keep our building neat and clean this past year. Their efforts have made our school a place we can be proud of.

"Buy your ticket on a stereol!" was the often heard cry of the juniors at the fair as they plunged into the task of earning money for the Jr.-Sr. Banquet.

These two juniors seem absorbed in their work, but why are they doing it in the hall? Tch! Tch!

AIM FOR EXCELLENCE

NATIONAL HONOR SOCIETY: S. Davis, C. Dilley, C. Lang, N. Cooper, K. Weiler (Sec.), J. Mitchell, C. Stump, R. Raub, K. Briggs, V. Moore (Treas.). ROW 2: Mrs. Finchum (Adv.), S. Pro-

vines, B. West (Pres.), P. Emerson, T. Hobig, R. Hawes, J. Palumba, R. Nugen, D. Kruse, C. Bussell, K. Hahn, Abs. C. Osmun (Treas.), K. Lange, Mr. Notestine (Adv.).

HONOR SOCIETY HAILS SELECT STUDENTS

Auburn High School recognizes the students of scholastic ability through the National Honor Society.

A candidate must have an index of all "B's" or an average of not lower than 3.15. The remaining qualifications include character, leadership, and service.

The National Honor Society has twenty-two members this year. On January 28 induction of new members took place. The seniors inducted were S. Provines, C. Bussell, and C. Dilley. The juniors were S. Davis, C. Lang, N. Cooper, J. Mitchell, C. Stump, K. Briggs, V. Moore, P. Emerson, T. Hobig, R. Hawes, and D. Kruse. The ceremony was presented by the senior chapter members. Each of the chapter members gave short speeches pertaining to the emblem, pledge, and history of the National Honor Society. The ceremony proved to be an impressive manner in which to honor the scholars.

Mr. Notestine, Cathie Osmun, and Ken Lange reveal smiles of approval for the N.H.S. rules.

SYMPOSIUM HIGHLIGHTS SCIENCE CLUB EVENTS

The field of radiation seems to hold a special fascination for these young scientists.

The Science Symposium held on December 14 highlighted the many events in which the Science Club members participated. Among the varied speakers was Dr. Jack Cook from DePauw University who spoke on "The Concepts of Organic Chemistry." Besides the interesting talks by the speakers, a group of Notional Science Fair winners demonstrated their winning projects; and a panel discussed scientific techniques used in research. It proved to be fun for all.

The Science Club also presented their projects in the annual Kiwonis Science Fair. The spelunking trip near Bloomington was another exciting trip which the adventurous group took.

A.H.S. can surely be proud of their young scientists.

DEPRESSING DEADLINES.

The Devils' Journal, edited by Cathie Osmun, had a home for the first time this year. Room 311, formerly a teachers' office, served as headquarters for the staff. The paper, already a member of the Quill & Scroll, joined the Indiana High School Press Association.

The major staff is selected from applications, and the entire student body is invited to work on the paper.

The Follies staff worked under a new system this year whereby it dealt with a yearbook company. Deadlines were earlier this year than in years before. Methods of putting the book together were changed, but the general work was the same. The Follies staff was given a typewriter for use in the publications room. As soon as the yearbook itself was completed, work was begun on the 1964 supplement.

The Speech Club, under the direction of Mr. Frank Shepard, participated in many activities during the year, such as the Thanksgiving and the Christmas assembly programs. The Student Council is the means by which every student may voice his opinion. By adding new projects to its usual activities, the Student Council progressed in its fourth year.

Librarians and projectionists proved helpful to the staff of A.H.S. The library received many new books to aid the students in their studies.

The student secretaries were on asset to the faculty this year. Their duties ranged from grading papers and running errands to the general office work of a secretary.

RATING AT MARCHING CONTEST

The secret of success of any outstanding organization is hard work, as the Auburn Red Devil Band found to be true this year. The Red Devil Band made an excellent showing in the DeKalb County Free Fall Fair, but one of its greatest achievements was being awarded a superior rating at the N.I.S.B.O.V.A. marching contest. Leading the band were Bernard Muzzilla and Rager Diehm as drum majors, an innovation that made the band even more impressive. There were several entertaining football half-time shows presented by the group, which contributed to team spirit. Concerts prepared for the students and the general public were well received. Participation was successful in the twirling and instrumental solo and ensemble contests.

As basketball game entertainment the band came on with snap and provided music for one of the state's best high school twirling corps. Under Mr. Richard Norris's superior direction, the constantly improving Auburn band rose to its highest level of quality to date, and its members were proud to be a part of it.

The Red Devil band, directed by Richard Norris, practices for its cabaret concert.

Seen here are the members of the girls' sextette practicing for one of the many programs presented by the chorus.

Mrs. Anne Ditmars directed the Auburn High School Chorus in another enjoyable year of music. In her second year at Auburn High School, the chorus continued to improve and was kept busy preparing for numerous appearances. Among these were the Thanksgiving program and the Christmas program which were uniquely performed for the student body in cooperation with the Speech Club. The members also presented a fall concert for their parents at which time they organized the Chorus Boosters' Club. The chorus showed versatility by performing not only as one group but also as several smaller ensembles which added to their proficiency and the delight of their audiences. The chorus was represented at solo and ensemble contest in February, and for the second consecutive year the entire group competed at the state contest. The chorus members will long have fond memories of their enjoyment in doing things as a group and their sense of accomplishment in having their shares in this successful year of music.

LATIN CLUB BOOSTS INTEREST IN CLASSICS

This year Latin Club was added to the numerous extra-curricular activities in which Auburn High School students may participate.

Latin Club was organized under the direction of Mr. John O'Donnell, the Latin instructor.

The organization has forty-two members. Only those who are taking Latin are eligible to become members.

Latin Club was organized to stimulate interest in the classics, Latin in particular. The activities of the club are designed to give the Latin student a keener insight to his subject and aid in promoting enthusiasm. The members have participated faithfully and with a deep and sincere interest and enthusiasm.

Latin Club is indeed a very good addition to Auburn High School.

The energetic Latin Club officers review their constitution prior to a meeting.

LETTERMEN BOOST SCHOOL SPIRIT

The Lettermen's Club consists of those who have won letters in track, football, basketball, cheerleading, and managing an athletic team.

Many Lettermen displayed spirit and sportsmanship throughout the year. These faithful backers of the Red Devils farmed a cheering black at many games. The boys served their community by collecting money for the March of Dimes and by distributing food to the needy at Christmas.

During the past year, the Girls' Athletic Association, under the leadership of Miss Loretta Young, has provided the opportunity for all girls to participate in athletics. Due to the great interest in G.A.A., a Girls' Interscholastic team was organized on a large scale. Volleyball, tennis, bowling, basketball, and softball were the main interscholastic sports.

All of these sports combined help develop a sense of sportsmanship and fair play.

A.H.S. BOASTS LARG-

The precision exhibited by the Pep Club during one of their half-time shows was the usual scene throughout the basketball season.

"Go! Fight! Win!" was the familiar yell heard throughout the Alumni Gym on many nights by the largest Pep Club Auburn has ever had.

The 170 members watched their beloved team go through victory and defeat. Despite the result of the game, the Red Devils always knew they had the largest and best-known block in northern Indiana backing them.

Regular half-time shows consisting of song motions, band motions, spelling, and claps were performed.

EST PEP CLUB

Co-operation revealed by the girls and a desire to cheer their team to victory are the main reasons the Pep Club has succeeded so well.

The cheering block and the students of A.H.S. set a new record this year. Five buses were taken to one of the out-of-town games.

The Pep Club is indeed an asset to the curriculum of A.H.S. The spirit and enthusiasm exhibited by this Pep Club will not be forgotten for years to come.

After a hard-fought game, these saddened faces clearly showed the mark of defeat.

Cooch John Plott and assistants Robert Voelkel and Jock Wogner led the 1963 Red Devil football team which placed fifth in the N.E.I.A.C. race. The Devils ended with an average season of three wins, four losses, and one tie. The squad accumulated 1356 total yards and 74 first downs. The Devils racked up 160 points for the 1963 season.

The following boys received conference honors: Terry Hobig, first team; Gary Cochard, third team; Joke DeWitt and Tim Hornbacker, honorable mentions.

Joe Lovelace, Dexter Winebrenner, Dove Wible, and Larry Lockner.

1963 proved to be a year of rebuilding for the Red Devils, this year of rebuilding will prove to be valuable in future years.

YEAR OF REBUILDING

Fifty yards can seem a long distance, but Bill Bailey manages to carry the ball that far to gain an Auburn touchdown.

On September 3 Auburn teamed up with Gorrett to face Angolo and Kendallville in the annual Jamboree at Kendallville. Gorrett took charge of the pigskin first and was able to score seven points in the first half. During the second half, Auburn was held scoreless by Angolo and Kendallville. Faced with an inexperienced team, Coach John Platt did his best to have each boy see action. Although the "Auburn-Gorrett" team lost 14-7, the experience they gained was important.

The Auburn Red Devils suffered a 21-13 defeat at the hands of Decatur in the opening game of the '63 season. Auburn's passing game proved effective, however, as the Red Devils completed seven of eleven passes for ninety yards. Highlights of the game were a twenty-five yard pass from Cochard to Habig and a line smosh by Cochard for touchdowns.

Auburn hosted the Bluffton Tigers for their first appearance on their home field. The Devils won a 28-7 victory over the Tigers, thus winning their first N.E.I.A.C. game. Cochard accounted for two of the Devils' touchdowns while Habig accounted for another. Bob King scored on a 75-yard run, the longest in the game. King's run proved to be one of the longest runs of the season.

Auburn chalked up its second loss when a mighty team of Angolo Hornets bested the Devils 22-13. Auburn played a hard game but had the disadvantage all the way.

What a headache! The formula of Auburn's defense and Defiance's offense results in a pile of confusion on the field.

High in the air, Terry Habig catches a pass thrown by Gary Cochard. The Defiance defense waits below for Terry to come back to earth!

Where did he go? A husky Garrett player ponders the question as he "rockles" thin air. Terry Habig, however, is dashing down the field for a touchdown.

Auburn defense shows its ability as it successfully brings down another Garrett Railroader.

Wild with excitement, the Auburn gridders watch the ball sail over the goal post. Tying the score at 20-20, Auburn was jubilant with its "victory" over Garrett.

During critical moments of the Garrett game, Gary's Cochard's pass finds its mark. Joe Lovelace gained valuable yardage for the Red Devils before being brought down.

Auburn hosted Concord Township of Elkhart next and won by a wide margin. Auburn had a lead of 18-7 at the end of the first quarter, and at half time a lead of 31-7. When the final gun sounded, Auburn had massacred Concord, 45-13. Four Devils scored touchdowns. Terry Habig scored on a twenty-five yard pass and a three yard pass; Pat Welch made two runs, one twenty-three yard run and a nine yard run for two more of the Devils' touchdowns; Dennis Kruse and Gary Cachard scored for two more touchdowns.

Auburn chalked up its third victory when the Devils downed Berne 27-13. Leading all the way, the Devils were given a score in the third quarter by a steamed up team of Bears, but the Devils held off the rally. A 55-yard touchdown run by Cochard was a highlight of the game.

The annual Homecoming game was played on a cold and wet field, but the boys' spirits were not dampened. A fired up band of Devils were ready to face a tough team of Ohioons. The Devils put on a fine Homecoming show against highly-rated Defiance, but lost a "red flag" game by the score of 27-14.

Enthusiasm was high at the annual Auburn-Garrett game when the Devils tied a surprised Garrett 11. The 20-20 score was deemed a "victory" for the Devils. "Turn about is fair play," so the saying goes, and the Railroaders certainly found this true. Auburn not only tied Garrett but knocked them out of first place in the N.E.I.A.C., exactly the same thing Garrett did to the mighty Devils one year ago.

Auburn was handed a 7-0 defeat by the Kendallville Comets at the climax of their '63 season. A cold and snowy night may have contributed to the Devils' defeat.

JUNIOR VARSITY HAS DIFFICULT SEASON

Hugging Mike Myers after the Garrett game, Mike Timberlin and Don Fayler display some of the Auburn spirit that held the Rail-roaders to a tie.

Coch Dalen Showalter led his 1963 Junior Varsity through a challenging season with a record of three wins and four losses.

The football Imps have been improving over the past few seasons as the records of the 1961, 1962, and 1963 seasons indicate. In 1961 the Imps scored no wins against five defeats. The 1962 group played six games and won two games, one against Angola and one against Columbia City. The improvement of the win-loss record has been the result of training gained in junior high football and also of more experience gained through more J.V. games.

The Imps' victories came over Garrett, Kendallville, and Columbia City. A highlight of the season was Auburn's first game with arch-rival Garrett. The Imps were able to gain a victory over the Handcars by a close score of 13-12. Leading all the way, the J.V.'s were nearly overcome by a late score, but Garrett missed the extra point and failed to catch the Devils.

The Imps' four defeats were to Angola (twice), Kendallville, and Garrett.

The experience gained should prove valuable to the boys who look forward to seeing future varsity action.

The Auburn Red Devils opened their 1963-1964 season by traveling to Avilla to face the Panthers. The Devils put on an impressive showing against the Avilla five. Auburn had a height advantage against the Panthers, but Avilla had the experience of two previous games. The Satans were able to pull an easy 77-50 victory against Avilla. Terry Habig, scoring 33 of Auburn's 77 points, took scoring honors for the evening.

Again on the road the Devils faced a tough team of Columbia City Eagles. Auburn was not able to keep up with the fast Columbia City five, losing by the score of 58-76.

The Devils made their 1963-1964 home debut a successful one defeating the Partland Panthers by an easy victory of 85-70. Terry Habig scored a total of 34 points with Pat Welch next high point man with 17.

The Satans were pressed into a double overtime by a tough team of Eastside Blazers. After a hard fought battle, the Red and Black were able to proclaim themselves the victors, defeating the Blazers 80-76.

The Huntertown Wildcots were next to meet the Auburn five.

BOTTOM ROW: Mgr. G. Morton, D. Kruse, G. Cochard, B. Bailey, D. Tuttle, F. Pulver, Mgr. R. Morton, TOP ROW: Mr. Showalter, P. Welch, J. DeWitt, T. Habig, J. Lovelace, C. Myers, Mr. Wagner.

RED AND BLACK PLAYERS

Cachard and Pulver soar high, and Gary pulls down another rebound amid the maze of arms and legs.

In answering the cheering black's cry, Bill Bailey sinks one for two more points to add at the score.

Having a bad night, the Devils were forced to bow to the "Cats" by the score of 56--43.

Friday the 13th proved to be an unlucky day for the Devils, being defeated by their rival Gorrett 73--66. The statistics showed that the Devils, despite their disadvantage in height, grabbed 33 rebounds. The Auburn five also hit 22 of 30 attempts at the foul line, while the Railroaders recovered only 17 of 33 tries. But, as the score showed, statistics do not win a ball game.

The Devils started a six-game winning streak by first defeating Churubusco 85--62. Gary Cachard and Frank Pulver took scoring honors with 20 points each.

Auburn's next game proved to be an exciting Devils victory over the Kendallville Camets 89--69. The Devils racked up 33 out of 43 attempts at the free throw line, while the Camets came through with only 11 of 22. Gary Cachard was the leading scorer with 26 points.

Coach Showalter was given his Christmas wish by obtaining a holiday invitational tournament crown. The Devils were hosts to Waterloo, Ashley, and Eastside. First defeating Waterloo 63--49, the Devils became Champs by easing past the Butler five by a close margin at 58--57.

The Devils, defeating the Angola Harnets, ran their consecutive winning streak to five and evened their Northeastern Indiana Conference record for the season at 2--2. The Devils had a close call having a score of 69--70 in the last seconds of the game. Terry Habig, unleashing a one-handed shot with one second showing on the clock, scored and gave the Auburn five a 71--69 victory against the Harnets. Bill Bailey helped his team on to victory by scoring 12 points.

The Berne Bears were the sixth team to fall under the Devils winning streak to the tune of 82--75. Pat Welch and Frank Pulver took scoring honors far the evening.

Taking careful aim Dink Tuttle shoots and scores on one of Auburn's specialties. "And the score went up another notch!"

THRILL SPECTATORS

The Decatur Yellow Jackets upset the Satans by the score of 65-60. The Devils seemed to have an off night having a shooting percentage of 36 per cent on 25 of 70, while Decatur needed only 61 shots to hit their 25 field goals, a 41 per cent accuracy mark. Scoring for the Devils in double figure columns were Habig and Pulver.

A fired up team of Devils tackled the highly ranked Concordia Cadets. The Auburn five put on a fine showing against a team that had the advantages all the way. Terry Habig, Frank Pulver, and Pat Welch were the leading scorers in the crusade against the Cadets.

A fast, determined Lea team came to Auburn and fought a thrilling contest. The 94-88 victory over the Lions does not tell the accurate story of the thrills and excitement of the game. Dink Tuttle's 12 points and superb ball handling greatly assisted his teammates.

The Devils rode to an easy victory defeating the Bluffton Tigers 77-65. Tassing in 25 points in the second period of the game proved to be a great advantage to the Devils. Gory Cachord, Terry Habig, Frank Pulver all scored in the double figure column.

Traveling to Adams Central the Devils suffered their worst setback of the season, losing to the Jets, with the final score 62-86. Terry Habig was high point man, scoring 25 of the 62 points.

The Devils final home appearance of the 1963-1964 season proved to be a successful one defeating the New Haven Bulldogs 65-60.

The Red and Black defeated the Albion Trojans by an easy victory 93-67. The strong five were able to secure 32 points during the third quarter which was an asset in acquiring a victory against Albion.

The last game of the season for the Devils proved to be victorious, defeating the Ossian Bears by a 4 point margin. Jake De Witt, our "Bear," scored 10 points in the final minutes of the game to lead the Devils to a 67-63 victory over Ossian's Bears.

Pat Welch springs high to get a tip for his mighty Devil teammates.

Senior forward Gory Cachord drives for two more to add to the Devils' accumulation of points.

Leaping high above blockers, Terry Habig is able to add two more points to the score and help to lead his team on to victory.

Joe Lovelace jumps high and scores to help the mighty Devils on to another victory.

The Auburn Cross Country team, coached by Mr. Robert Voelkel, had a very trying season.

Crass country is a very strenuous sport which requires endurance and stamina. The race itself is sometimes over two miles long. Many of the boys run as much as four miles at practices. Most of the races, instead of being run over a level course, are laid out on golf courses. This adds obstacles such as creeks and hills.

Lettermen Dick Ward, Dick Howes, Larry Rodgers and Mike Likens will be returning next year to reinforce the "64" cross country squad.

BOYS' INTRAMURALS FILL THE NOON HOURS

At noon the Alumni Gym was a busy place with the activities of boys' noon league. During the 1963-64 school year, the boys had an opportunity to participate in noon league sports. These sports consisted of volleyball and basketball.

Sixteen senior boys were chosen as co-captains to head the eight various teams.

Noon league may well have proved to be a source of experience for future Auburn High School athletes.

The girls also filled their noon hour with many activities of noon league. These activities varied, with volleyball and basketball the main ones. The captains were chosen by Miss Young. They in turn chose the various members of the teams to participate in these activities. The various sports brought fun and the valuable asset of good sportsmanship to each girl who took part.

Under the supervision of Miss Young the girls were able to broaden their activities more so than had been done in past years.

L. Smith and L. Daub spring high into the air to get a jump ball for their respective teams.

Sherry Smith leaps high to pull in a rebound shot by Coral Shaudel.

Follies Supplement Auburn High School

Auburn, Indiana

LARGEST CROWD EVER ATTENDS PROM

May 16 the Hotel Lofontaine was host to the junior and senior classes of Auburn High School for the annual banquet and prom.

Jerry Polumbo and Phyllis Wills helped themselves to the buffet.

A smiling crowd assembled for the prom. Music was provided by the Klansmen.

The highlight of the dance was the crowning of the prom king and queen. Of the six candidates, Sue Sisson and Gary Cochard were chosen to represent the senior class.

AWARDS NIGHT PROGRAM DRAWS LARGE CROWD

Students and their awards are: Steve Pickard and Becky Raub, Lions Club Scholarships; Max Shellenbarger and Becky Schuette, Parent-Teacher Council Awards; Ken Lange, Sigma Beta Math-Science Award.

These four smiling students and their awards are: Mike Walter, American Legion Speech Award; Becky Raub and Gary Cochard, School Citizen of the Year Awards; Carol Lang, Outstanding Research in American Literature Award.

May 26 also brings awards to these: Kathy Rena, Arian Award; Carolyn Dilley, Cathie Osmun, and Sharon Pravines, B.P.W. Awards; Mary Lou Praksa, Linda Krueger, and Ann Haaver, Auburn Woman's Club Sewing Awards.

ANNUAL LATIN BANQUET HONORS GODDESS CERES

Latin students Carole Staggs and Stephen Carr seem to eat a little more slowly in a reclining position. Come on, kids! Romans did it all the time!

"I wonder what I'll have to do?" ponders a future Latin student who is being used as a slave.

Here stands Goddess Ceres, in whose honor the banquet is being given. Students pass through the arch of flowers to present their sacrifices to her.

The annual Latin Banquet was held in Alumni Gymnasium in Auburn on May 9.

The various committees headed by second-year students spent many hours in preparation for the big event. The gym was decorated like a Roman Street with a huge mural stretching from one end to the other. In the center of the gym there was an arch decorated with lilacs leading to an altar on which students made sacrifices of fruit to the honored goddess of the banquet, Ceres.

Couples entered dressed in brilliant Roman costumes and were introduced in Latin. The freshman students wore plain white costumes as did the plebes of Rome. After being seated the second year students maintained the ancient Roman custom of having slaves serve them their meals while reclining on the floor. The slaves, future Latin students from the eighth grade, were first auctioned off at an authentic slave auction. They were sold to the highest bidders who purchased them with pennies. It was an event enjoyed by all.

A.H.S. BAND AND CHORUS THRILL AUDIENCES

Seen here is the chorus singing one of its selections at the baccalaureate service May 24.

Boys' trio, Dick Ward, Bill Bailey, and Jay Sisson, presents one of its numbers at the informal "Devils Singin' Somethin' Folsky."

The Auburn High School Band and Chorus again participated in the state music contest held at Dunlap, Indiana, on April 18. On the day preceding the contest both organizations presented their programs to the student body. The chorus in its new red and black uniforms sang "No Man Is an Island," "If I Had a Hammer," and "Nobody Knows." The band's selections were "Castle Gap," "Pearl Fishers," and "Festival Prelude." Competing with some of Indiana's best high school bands and choruses, they were both awarded "excellent" ratings in sight reading and on their prepared selections. Next the band was privileged to take a field trip to hear the United States Air Force Band give a concert. Then the annual spring concerts were presented. The chorus concert was an informal "Devils Singin' Somethin' Folsky." The band assuredly played its best spring concert yet and dedicated the concert to the seniors of 1964. Auburn School's successful year of music was closed with the chorus singing at baccalaureate and the band playing at the commencement exercise.

The Auburn High Band, under the direction of Mr. Norris, entertains the student body at one of the various student body programs.

SPEECH CLUB PLAY

BOTTOM ROW: S. Warren, K. Hahn, B. King. ROW 2: R. Jennings, V. Elliott, A. Yoder, D. Folk, P. Emerson. ROW 3: J. DeWitt, D. Kruse, S. Walter, J. Goodwin, R. Guinn, R. Schuette, L.

Barnhart, P. Wills, B. Roub, J. Wilson, J. Sunday, M. Myers, D. Tuttle, M. Fuller.

The stillness represented here only exists before the play begins.

The Auburn High School Speech Club and speech class presented the annual play on May 1st and May 2nd. The play was presented to two very good audiences.

The 1964 play was "You Can't Take It With You," a three-act comedy by Moss Hart and George S. Kaufman. The play is a story about the rather unusual Sycamore family and its doings. It centers around the love affair of Alice Sycamore and Tony Kirby. The various situations encountered prove to be very entertaining.

On April 24th some of the play cast members went to Nappanee, Indiana, to see "You Can't Take It With You" put on by the high school students there. This proved to be quite helpful to the Auburn players.

WELL FOR 1964 SEASON

Pole vaulter Terry Habig gleefully clears the pole again to help his teammates to another victory.

"He flies through the air . . .!" Ken Lange earns another ribbon for the Devils with his broad jump.

"Run, jump, up and over!" Bill Bailey grabs a second place in the hurdles at the Sectional at North Side.

CLASS OF 1964 ENDS 12-YEAR

Rev. Owen, Rev. Wirey, and Rev. Nicholson were the three speakers for Baccalaureate on May 24.

Seen here are several of the seniors getting ready for the Baccalaureate service at the Junior High School.

The day that finally terminated the twelve long and hard years of work for the Class of 1964 was May 28, 1964. The gym never seemed so long; and to most of us, our long walk was like a death walk. "Freedom" was now at our fingers, but suddenly the world looked cruel and hard. Many will continue their education at higher institutes, some will work, and still some will enter into marriage. The decisions that we always pushed aside or went to our parents for an answer are now our decisions to make and our problems to solve. Auburn High Schools holds many memories for each of the graduating seniors, and it has a special place in each of our hearts. The many hours of study, the friendships gained, the leadership many of us were able to conquer, the hours of fun, and the teachers whom we admire for their knowledge and understanding will never fade from the minds of any of us. The most important years of our lives were spent in Auburn High School. Our experience gained helped in molding our character and personality. Thus, "We will find a way or make a way" will always guide the way for the Class of 1964.

The inspiring words of the Baccalaureate ministers hung heavy in the air as the graduates were getting closer to the day that everyone awaited. The words will never be forgotten, because now was the time to cut the strings of the past and look only to the future. The future holds bright horizons for those willing to accept the challenges of the world. Our high school days were gone; they passed as quickly as they had come. As the graduates walked through the door for the last time as a student before Commencement, one hour later we walked through facing the world on our own as the newest alumni of Auburn High School.

CAREER ON MAY 24 AND MAY 28

The night of Commencement brought a variety of expressions to the seniors' faces as they listened to the speakers.

Wonder what's running through Melvin Smith's mind as he proudly accepts his diploma?

All smiles, Phyllis Wills and Jerry Palumba enter the gym and proceed to take that final march.

In a few hours this solemn setting will be alive with many people, 1964 graduates and their friends and relatives.

"WE'LL FIND A WAY OR MAKE ONE"

With the changing of the tassels, the class of 1964 becomes officially graduated and part of the A.H.S. alumni.

Seniors Gary George and Larry Doub put away their caps and gowns and prepare to rush out into the world.

Jan Leeke gives the class intention at Commencement and provokes many thoughts in the minds of the graduates.

"It doesn't seem possible that tonight I'm graduating from high school." Bob King is quite meditative just before Commencement begins.
